CHOOSE FRANCO FOR YOUR HOME

As a homeowner, how often do you think about your home's septic system? Probably not every day — and you're not alone. But, routine maintenance of your system can help prolong its useful life — and help you avoid significant expenses and frustration in the future.

Offering a full spectrum of design, repair, and maintenance services, FRANCO Environmental makes it easier and more convenient to manage your home's septic system.

With formal training and world-class equipment, our technicians are true professionals. In addition to pumping the system, our technicians will inform you if there are any observed issues that require attention.

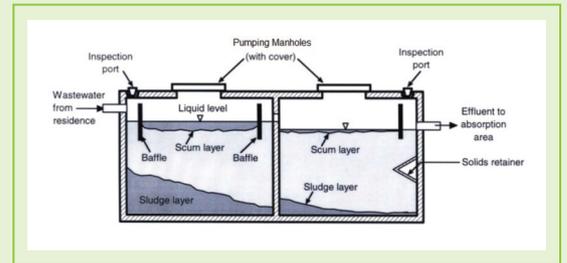

FRANCO customers also benefit from the convenience of our pre-scheduling program — which ensures that your system is pumped and inspected in accordance with system and/or municipal requirements.

MAINTAINING YOUR SEPTIC SYSTEM

Proper maintenance and servicing of your septic system will maximize its useful life and prevent unsightly, annoying and expensive failures. When having your system serviced, it's important that the manhole access be used for pumping, not the inspection port. This precaution maximizes the ability to properly clean the system. Regular and proper maintenance is the best practice to prolong the life of a septic system.
